

nstonline
Friday, July 25, 2008, 12:06 PM

Home Emedia Classifieds U buy U sell 7-Day News News Archive Digital Newspaper

Search NST:

WORLDNEWS

Britain's ruling party loses key Scottish by-election

SONY

With BRAVIA Sync, take control of your Sony Home Theatre System with just one remote commander.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

- 9th Malaysian Aikido Seminar
- International Humanitarian Law Forum 2008
- THE SECRETS OF TAKING STUNNING PHOTOGRAPHS

...more

News

Frontpage

Local

Business

Sports

Parliament

World

NAM News

Property

Columns

EDITORIAL: Dream machines

OPINION: Bashir does a jig as UN fiddles its options

JOHN TEO: Manila's peace bid and vested interests

HARDEV KAUR: Seeking coherent solutions in a troubled world

More...

Letters

SCHOOL SPORTING CULTURE: How to look out ...

TERENGGANU'S CARS: Other problems

TERENGGANU'S CARS: We can't accept these ...

GROWING BILL: Charged for extras that were ...

ARTICLE 153: Clearly intended to be for ...

More...

Features

Keeping the heritage alive

Be cool, go square

Flower power

Ibu Merdeka

Gardening: The versatile

NST Online » Local News

2008/07/24

Keeping cervical cancer in check

Email to friend

Print article

SHARE

Datuk Dr Sheikh Muszaphar Shukor with the centre's general manager Nur Shereen Dzulkiflee (centre) and Dr Nor Ashikin Mokhtar, surveying cervical screening instruments.

KUALA LUMPUR: A non-governmental organisation has been formed to reduce the high incidence of cervical cancer in Malaysia.

Called Cervical Cancer Awareness Association (Cares) and located at Primanora Medical Centre, it will provide screening and raise awareness among women.

Cares ambassador and Malaysia's first angkasawan Datuk Dr Sheikh Muszaphar Shukor said: "After doing cancer research through the angkasawan programme, my perspective about cancer has changed. That was one of the reasons I decided to support Cares' efforts."

Cervical cancer is the second leading cancer after breast cancer, with 2,000 to 3,000 cases detected yearly.

Medical adviser for Cares, Datuk Dr Nor Ashikin Mokhtar, said unlike other cancers, cervical cancer could be prevented.

As part of its programme, a public forum will be held on Aug 10 at Boulevard Hotel, Mid Valley Megamall.

SHARE

OTHER STORIES

- Govt to look into plight of entrepreneurs
- KL seeks help of congress to get records in archives
- Cop held over claim of bribery
- SMS not from Shell
- Ex-newsreader files appeal
- Use Bahasa Malaysia only
- Azizan: Somebody is instigating NGOs
- 'Local bodies can't impose penalties'
- Court: DPP can help trial judges on child witnesses
- Malaysia gets medical boost
- Malacca site for toxicology lab
- Altantuya Murder Trial: Credibility of police witness questioned
- Man sought to help in graft case
- Workers left in the lurch
- Penang Legislative Assembly Building: CM orders safety check
- Made-in-Perak animated films for Mid-East, Europe
- New twist to MCA battle in Kuantan
- New terror link to M-East?
- Toll rates study now in final stages, says Mohd Zin
- Lorry attendant attacked by gang dies
- Penang Assembly: Looking smart in Malay attire
- Penang Assembly: 'Bad feng shui' blamed for sick council staff
- Penang Assembly: Avoid race-based politics, reps urged
- Six from Malaysia honoured for human resource development
- Rais wants more time for forum
- Mee hoon and baby milk may be controlled items
- Young but they're winners
- PM: Take middle path to justice, peace for all
- Is your MyKad always on you?
- Dewan Negara: Aid for families of 11 ISA detainees
- Dewan Negara: RM700m loss in seafood exports to EU
- Muqabalah the way to go, says Pas council
- Roaring time for 150 pupils
- Woman looking for aunt
- Missing teen found in boy's home
- 31 cops pass NIE English proficiency course
- No pension for 10 years, claims ex-cop
- Troubled marriage led to deaths
- Dewan Negara: Judges' payments may be revealed
- Ringgit & Sense: Better deal at familiar places
- Ringgit & Sense: Small shops offer good prices
- Tamil schools see new life
- School closed for disinfection

Datuk Dr Sheikh Muszaphar Shukor with the centre's general manager Nur Shereen Dzulkiflee (centre) and Dr Nor Ashikin Mokhtar, surveying cervical screening instruments.

Keeping cervical cancer in check

KUALA LUMPUR: A non-governmental organisation has been formed to reduce the high incidence of cervical cancer in Malaysia.

Called Cervical Cancer Awareness Association (Cares) and located at Primanora Medical Centre, it will provide screening and raise awareness among women.

Cares ambassador and Malaysia's first angkasawan Datuk Dr Sheikh Muszaphar Shukor said: "After doing cancer research through the angkasawan programme, my perspective about cancer has changed. That was one of the reasons I decided to support Cares' efforts."

Cervical cancer is the second leading cancer after breast cancer, with 2,000 to 3,000 cases detected yearly.

Medical adviser for Cares, Datuk Dr Nor Ashikin Mokhtar, said unlike other cancers, cervical cancer could be prevented.

As part of its programme, a public forum will be held on Aug 10 at Boulevard Hotel, Mid Valley Megamall.